

Unselfish Lions make substate finals

Written by Tom Fruehling

Friday, 26 February 2016 23:05 - Last Updated Saturday, 27 February 2016 00:11

The mantra heard over and over in practice the past week obviously got into the heads of the Linn-Mar boys basketball players.

"Ball movement, ball movement, ball movement," explained Lions sharpshooter Jared Printy. "That's what the coaches preached, and that was the game plan. Move the ball and find the open guy."

They performed it to perfection Friday night on their home court in a 79-63 Class 4A substate semifinal win over Waterloo East.

Riding an eight-game winning streak, the 10th-ranked Lions (17-5) will face No. 7 Cedar Falls (18-4) at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the U.S. Cellular Center in the Substate 3 final.

By flipping the ball in and out and from side to side, the Lions were like pinball wizards.

In the opening four minutes alone, their passing magic resulted in four wide-open 3-pointers and a 12-2 lead that immediately set the Trojans back on their heels. Shooting from one corner and then the other, Jordan Bohannon popped one in, Riley Murphy hit two in a row and Printy followed suit.

Unselfish Lions make substate finals

Written by Tom Fruehling

Friday, 26 February 2016 23:05 - Last Updated Saturday, 27 February 2016 00:11

“That was the idea, to find the shooters,” said emerging superstar Beau Klostermann. “And we’ve got a lot of shooters.”

With 24 of their first-half points coming from eight 3-pointers, the Lions were able to withstand a second-quarter surge by Waterloo East and still maintain a 36-29 lead at intermission.

After being down 29-8 at one point, the Trojans (12-12) put on a 21-7 run and closed the half with eight straight points.

“They’re a tough, resilient team,” Printy pointed out. “We figured they’d punch back. But we were able to hold them off.”

When the senior transfer from Washington drilled his fifth 3-pointer early in the third quarter, it put the Lions up by 10 and East seemed to run out steam.

Thanks to some long-range bombs by 5-foot-8 guard Avere Clark (whose 15 points all came from behind the arc) and the inside muscle of 6-foot-6 Isaiah Wade, Waterloo did close the gap to as few as eight points. But after Wade stole a pass and proceeded to slam a sure dunk high off the rim at the 2:00 minute mark in the game, it was all but over.

“He’s a load,” Linn-Mar coach Chris Robertson said of the behemoth Trojan center who scored 14 of his team-high 18 points in the second half. “But I thought we doubled him pretty well.”

Unselfish Lions make substate finals

Written by Tom Fruehling

Friday, 26 February 2016 23:05 - Last Updated Saturday, 27 February 2016 00:11

2016 Substate Finals basketball game between the Lions and the Eagles. The Lions, in white, are leading 10-0 in the first quarter. The Eagles, in dark blue, are trailing. The game is being played in a gymnasium with a large crowd of spectators. The Lions are playing well, with several players contributing to the lead. The Eagles are struggling to keep up. The game is expected to be a close contest, with the Lions favored to win.