The Cedar Valley Christian volleyball team enjoyed an historic victory Monday night.

The Huskies won their first match since joining the Iowa Girls High School Athletic Union this year with a 25-18, 24-26, 25-11, 25-21 victory over the Meskwaki Settlement School.

Cedar Valley Christian was winless in its first eight dates this season, including dual meets and tournaments, before breaking into the victory column at home.

Jessie Walsh led the Huskies with 15 assists, seven kills, six aces and five digs. Carly Silver collected five aces and four assists.

Lindsey Cach had eight kills, Izzy Hoffman seven kills, Maria Sequeira five kills and Taylor McElree four kills. Sequeira had six digs and Hannah Reinhart contributed five assists.
