The struggling Cedar Valley Christian baseball team cancelled Thursday's meeting with Calamus-Wheatland due to a lack of available players.

This is the third time this season the Huskies have cancelled games due to lack of players. They also cancelled games against Bellevue Marquette on June 5 and against Prince of Peace on June 8.

This is Cedar Valley Christian's first season of varsity baseball in the Iowa High School Athletic Association. The Huskies have an 0-and-20 record and have been outscored, 314-27, with 10 shutouts.

Cedar Valley Christian plans to play against Alburnett in the first round of the Class 1A district tournament this Tuesday at North Linn High School.
