

5 Kohawks made IIAC soccer team

Written by Metro Sports Report
Monday, 09 November 2015 18:51 -

Five members of the Coe women's soccer team have been named to the Iowa Conference all-star squad.

Sarah Fathallah, a Linn-Mar grad, was named first team all-conference for the second straight year. Jordan Holmes, a Kennedy grad, and Allie Stubbs were named to the second team.

Kelsey Fauser and MJ Winterer of Coe received honorable mention.

Coe reached the semifinals of the Iowa Conference tournament and set a school record with 15 victories this season. The Kohawks climbed to No. 16 in the national rankings, their highest spot in school history.