Gretchen Lilienthal and Haley Smith of Coe College have been named to the Iowa Conference all-star softball teams, the league announced Wednesday.

Lilienthal, a junior from Durant, was named first team all-conference as a utility player. Smith, a sophomore from Pleasant Valley, was named second team all-conference as a utility player as well.

Three Metro graduates also were named to the all-conference squads.

Katie Wieland, a Prairie grad who plays at Luther, was named a first-team shortstop. Katie Sommer, a Linn-Mar grad who plays at Wartburg, also was named a first-team shortstop.

Dani Stromert, a Jefferson grad who plays at Loras, was named a second-team outfielder.
