Corbin Faidley and Ayaka Okamoto of Coe College have been named the Swimmers of the Week by the Iowa Conference.

Faidley, a freshman from Des Moines Hoover, collected four victories in two dual meets last week and set a school record in the 1,000-yard freestyle in 10:00.51. This is the second time he has won the conference award this season.

Okamoto, a freshman from Tokyo, won seven races in a pair of dual meets last week. This is her second conference award as well.
