Cedar Rapids Jefferson senior Jarrod Uthoff will play in the NeXt All-American Classic at the Sears Centre Arena in Hoffman Estates, Ill., Sunday (April 3) afternoon.

The all-star game is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. and will be televised by the CBS College Sports Network.

Twenty-four players from around the country were selected for the game.

Uthoff, who has signed with the University of Wisconsin, led the state of Iowa in scoring this season at 26.2 points per game. He was named Iowa's Mr. Basketball and the Iowa Gatorade Player of the Year.
